A monument was set up for Johann Bartel in 1890 in Rosental. This monument has been brought to Canada and is now in the Mexican Village Museum in Steinbach, Man.

Rapid City, S.D. 57701 U.S.A.

Johann Bartsch lived close to Danzig. He had his own farm and a few cows. The milk was picked up daily and sold in the city. His wife had to be in charge of this in his absence. They had good income.

On Feb 19 (31st) 1786 Johann Bartsch and Jacob Hoepfner were sent as Deputies to Russia in search of lands.

On May 13 1787 they had an audience with Zarina Katharina II. One year and 11 days later they were back at home.

228 families (around 1200 persons) started their journey in March 1788 to Russia. Johann Bartsch and Jacob Hoepfner were with their families in this group.

They had to stay in Dobrowna over winter and by July 1789 they arrived in Chortitza, and settled there.

The first few years were very hard on them, many died. It was a little easier by the time the second group arrived, they were not quite as poor as the first.
