Jakob von Riesen * Apr. 29, 1827 Klein Montau/Heubuden (or -*Apr. 11, 1825 Marienburg) +Aug. 2, 1868 Koepbortal/Trakt, Russia - carpenter
 He migrated to Russia in 1858 and settled in Hohendorf/Trakt. In a letter written June 30, 1861 in Koepbortal he describes their six-week journey with horses and wagon to Russia (Molotschna). As his wife did not like it there, they moved on to Berdjansk. The roads were very bad, also the weather. His cousin had to come with a team of horses and help them (Johann Sudermann).
 They stopped as his uncle Suderman because the wagon needed repair. They moved on and spent the night under the sky, taking turns to watch. His wife fell asleep, and the horses were gone in the morning. After several hours of searching they found them and they continued their journey. Once they met gypsies, and before they knew what happened one metal pail, the coffepot and his best pipe were gone.
 After his death sends the guardian of the children a Kornelius Wall of Koepbortal a letter to Mr. Kornelius Riesen Marienburg, and to Gerhard Penner, Koczelnitzki (1873) in regard of inheritance for these children as his sister Anna van Riesen had died in Waldow.
