Jacob Neufeld

(Father of Mrs. John Wall, Madera, Calif.)

I was born Dec. 6, 1856 in Sparrau, Polotschna, S. Russia. My mother died as I was 44 years old. Father sold his business and I was placed in the home of some old people by the name of Martin Derksen who lived in Sparrau, to care for me for an undetermined time. I went to school. My teacher was Isaac Peters. He tried to teach us to be good. He often said: "Boys, for every unneeded word you will have to account for on the day of judgement." It often made me think. Isaac Peters was elected to the position of Elder in the Pordenauer Church. He moved there. Peter Reimer from Fabrikerwiese took his place in the school for the rest of my schooling. I stayed on at Derksen until I was sixteen years old. I was given food and clothing while there. At the age of sixteen I went home and helped my father with his work. He made wagons. During the coming summer months I worked for Jacob Tiessen. In the fall I arranged to work for my brother in Sparrau to learn the blacksmith trade. With him I rode quite often to church and I began to realize that I needed to be converted. I had not been keeping good company so I had to take some admonishment. The dear Lord gave me grace to withstand the temptations.

I was with my brother one year and for the following year I hired out to David Plock to work in his blacksmith shop. I kept going to church meetings. At one meeting a young 13 year old girl told of her conversion. This made a deep impression on me. I was convinced of what I must do now. Then I started praying to the Lord, alone. But I did not make any progress. One day in the fall when I was sent to H. Penners with some "Pflugnables", I had to go through the area where a number of street boys were loitering. I said "Hello". Then one of them hit me in the back with his fist. I turned on them. Then they ran real fast. Later I did not have to suffer any more at their hands.

While D. Plock had gone to Alexanderkrone on a buying trip, I was left without a place at the blacksmith shop. My brother came and took me back to my parents in Sparrau. From here I went to my sister, the Franz Kroekers in Pordenau. They gave me a horse to ride to Steinfeld to where my sister Helen was living at the F. Wall's place. Here Peter Voth hired me right away for 115 rubels a year.

I returned the horse in Pordenau and walked back to Sparrau to my parents. In a few days Peter Voth came to get me. I became quite lonesome in Steinfeld. The Holy Ghost left me, for I did not walk in His ways. After seeding time I was permitted to visit my parents in Sparrau. On the way I met a Mr. Vanzen from Pordenau, who was on his way to a large baptism in Waldheim. He invited me to come along. The baptism took place after the noon meal. A number of people were baptized.

Now I was further away from Sparrau than before. The Lord took care of this. There was a man who had to go that way and invited me to go with him. As I departed from him he gave me a small Testament and told me another meeting would take place in Neukirch in two weeks time, and also a baptism. He invited me to come too. Now I really started to think about those things that had bothered me. On my return to work they asked me how my parents were faring in Sparrau, I had to admit I had not seen them as I had been in Waldheim, at a church meeting. I realized that it was the Lords leading that I had been at that meeting. Henry Reimer came to visit me and I told him about my visit, and I admitted that I had to be converted. He discussed this and prayed together. My sister told me that I should give this up, as no man knew whether he was a child of God or not. I argued with her but it did not do me any good. I received permission to go to this meeting in Neukirch, but my sister wanted me to forget about it and stay home. But I went to the meeting.

During the noon hour several attendants asked to be baptized, I also applied for it. My brother Peter, who was teacher in Frangenu, told me that I was not grounded deep enough in God's word and should wait awhile before I took this step. Seven souls were baptized and I waited.

Now I had a battle within me. I withdrew from the Holy Ghost and went back keeping company with the old crowd.

As my term expired in the fall my boss asked me to stay on and I agreed. During the winter I kept steady company with the old crowd. My relatives passed through the village while going to church, but no one visited me. In spring a young girl out of our house and I were baptized by Elder Peters from Gnadenheim, but I did not have peace.

I felt like a change was necessary, so I was able to get a position as miller for W. Sawatzke in Friedensdorf. Here also I joined in with the old crowd. This went on all winter. During this time half the village of Hierschau burned down during one night. We drove down to help. I was chosen to keep close watch till the morning. As there was hardly any wind & I layed down on the sread and went to sleep. Shortly after I was called to the mill as somebody wanted some grain ground. Even though the wind was light, I started the mill and ground the flour. Very soon there was thunder. My boss got after me for having falling asleep. It came to an exchange of words, and the result was that I gave up this job. The next morning I left him and went to my parents in Sparrau.

Now I had time to think about my past life. In this village was a couple by the name of Heinrich Schroeder. Both were christians. I came in contact with this couple. They felt for me so that we came to love each other. Now I had a chance to go to church quite often. The dear Lord gave grace that I found my way back and was converted.

One evening I had the opportunity to tell a certain brother what was on my heart, like it says in James 5: "We shall confess our sins and pray for one another". During Harvest Festival in Klippenfeld the Schroeder and I were baptized with others. Soon after F. Loews from Pordenau came and hired me to take care of his business. They were going on a three week visit to the Crimea.

In the meantime brother John Regehr from Klippenfeld (Klingenfeld) came and hired me for a servant. He traveled a lot and had only three daughters. During this time I met the lady that became my 1st wife. After a two week engagement we were married on February 14, by my boss Reb. John Regehr.

After seeding time we drove to Neukirch to a meeting. There was a Jacob Reimer from the Luban. He had an Elisabeth Hildebrand. After several months they wanted to go back to the Luban. We decided to travel along with them. We met them at Berdjansk and traveled by water to Rostow. I became very seasick. From here we went by train to Olschenki. We arrived there early Sunday morning. We stayed in Alexandrodar for the day, as there was a meeting in the house of Peter Gerzens, whom we knew from Sparrau.

Monday we drove to Wohldemfuerst to the house of my wife's parents. My father-in-law had died during my wife's absence, her stepmother was still there. There was an Oil Mill in the barn to which I secured one half interest. We were to get 50 dessjatin from my wife's household. We stayed on for one year, and being not satisfied, as the place and land had been neglected, we sold everything and returned via Koston and Bedjansk.

As we arrived in Sparrau, my brother was very pleased to see us, as he planned to leave for America. We bought him out, also his Smithy. I hired a good blacksmith by the name of Wilhelm Born for two years. He did not have any tools, while I had them. At the end of this term he moved to the Crimea and I was able to get other help until Peter would be old enough to take over the business. He left for Orenburg and we worked with strangers again. In 1882 I bought the old place in Sparrau and built up the Smithy there. I worked till 1905. On the 5th of May my dear wife died. As daughter Anna left home I sold everything, paid the debts and also gave some money to the children. Then I drove off to my sister Anna, the Franz Broekers. After the harvest I visited my children Peter Neufelds in Orenburg. I told them that I wanted to leave for America. He encouraged me to stay on and start all over again. We drove to Mr. Schobolof and I leased 10 desjatin and he took 10 desjatin also. I harvested 180 roud that year.

I lived in the summer room and had all my belongings in it. All I needed was a wife. My brother(?) Peter Neufeld had a cook by the name of Helen Giesbrecht. I prayed to the Lord to show me if this was the one for me. There was a big difference between our ages - I was 47 and she was 20 years. We were married on May 28, After the harvest we left for Albstadt, Polotschna where my dear wife's sister Anna lived. After three days stay we heard that my old place in Sparrau was empty again. The owner had died. So I decided to move back. Soon I had the blacksmith shop working again and felt quite at home, but my wife Lena did not. She wanted to go back. I was able to get 60 dessjatin land in Pawlodar to homestead. We received permission in spring 1907 but did not move till the fall. As I ran out of money we were able to borrow 15 roubles to complete the journey. But as my companion Mr Plett took the money, I was still helpless. There was a meeting held and and the collection came to 20 rubles which I received on a loan. I paid it back to the Church in Altenau. We had left Sparrau on the 22nd of August and arrived one month later (Sep. 22,) in Sabaroska at Giesbrechts. We receive 60 desjatin land for 16 rubles, planted some evergreen trees on it right away to show that there was an owner. We bought an extra 3 desjatin land for 7 rubles. We stayed with the Giesbrechts all winter. There was much snow during the winter and it was hard to get to town. We moved unto the land in spring. A Kirise by name of Joseph worked the land for us with 6 camels. We were able to buy flour on loan till fall. At that time we were able to pay it off. Firewood was enough on our land. My wife's parents came to live also in this district. Father died on Apr. 1, 1926, and mother on Nov. 19,
