Migration from the Ukraine, S. Russia, to Tashkent, Asia

(written by Jacob Reimer)

The journey began August 1, 1880 at the village Waldheim, on a Thursday. Sunday we camped and worshiped at the River Almus near Marienpol. Had a very heavy rain. Continued the journey Aug. 7, and covered about 100 miles till Saturday. Sunday we halted at a stock watering place amidst heavy rains. Monday we proceeded on very heavy roads. When we reached the Mius River, we were ferried across and arrived at the Dobbekel River at noon, Sunday, Aug. 17. The caravan consisted of 82 or 83 families. We continued the journey Monday and by Saturday, August 23, we crossed the Don River.

Aug. 30 we crossed the Volga River and encountered a terrific rain and storm enroute. We feared that it might overturn our wagon and wash them down stream. Sixty miles further we arrived at a Russian village, but by this time it took two teams of horses to pull one wagon. Sunday was always a day of rest. We were in Yarkark by now. By the following Sunday we arrived at a large German estate. From the Volga Abraham Peters and Peter Wiebe boarded a ship for Saratov, and from there they went to the German colony to meet Jacob Janzen, Dietrich Peters and Peter Quiring. They had gone to St. Petersburg on business matters and we anticipated to meet them later at Stowiese. We did not meet them at the time agreed upon. We just made it to another German village 80 miles from Stowiese. Frequently we overheard in conversation "What will the brothers say because we failed to arrive in time at the appointed place."

After the evebubf service we laid down to sleep, that is, most of us, when the rattling noise of a vehicle was heard; then also singing and we recognized the voice of Elder Peters which aroused great joy. There was Abraham Peters, J. Janzen, Peter Wiebe and several Volga brothers who came to meet us. They reported that in Nowesen others were waiting for us and that provisions were in store for us. The amount of 3,000 pounds of flour, 25 bushels potatoes, oats and hay and 3,800 pounds of rye flour. Monday the Caravan started early because we hoped to reach the town 60 miles away that evening, which we did. Two wagons however, hurried ahead to apportion the oats and to bake the rye flour into bread. We arrived at 10 pm.

Tuesday and Wednesday forenoon were days of rest. Wednesday noon we traveled again and by Sunday we arrived at a spring where we camped. Monday we moved again and Tuesday we arrived at Oralska. Wednesday, September 17, the caravan stopped - a man was missing. But who? The elderly man, Johann Medel, was gone. Several men drove back and found him. By noon the next day we were in Jeleski and Thursday noon in Orenburg.

By October 16 we arrived in Urgiss and beheld with penetrating eyes the wide desert before us. We provided ourselves with provisions for 10 days. We butchered six head of beef at the price of 170 Rubles. We left Urgiss October 20 driving into the desert. The trip proceeded well. All possible feed was loaded on camels. Rain had hardened the sand which made for easier traveling. Sunday, October 26, we camped and rested at an inland sea but could not drink the salty water, which resulted in search of water in the surrounding area.

By the grace and help of God we arrived in Maslinski October 30 and rested for some time. November 6 we arrived in Marmakske and by November 11 at Fort Krowska. November 12 the old Johann "edel" was lost again. "e searched the area but to no avail. "e notified the local authorities and November 13 we moved on again and arrive in Schuffleck November 15. After a telegram announced that Johann "edel" had been found about 10 miles from the city Kirgisien. "e had suffered severely and his hands and feet were frozen. It was very cold at that time. His son, Peter "edel, and son-in-law Derksen and Benjamin Derksen returned to get him, but when they came there they found that he had died and had been buried.

It was November 21, when we arrived in Turkestan. There another mound had to be erected. A nineteen year old youth, Dietrich Wienx died. The next day we moved on again. From November 25 to 27 we had a heavy rain. On November 29, we came to a large mountain (hill) about three miles of incline. It rained from morning till noon and traveling was cumbersome. That evening several "olgaer (brothers from the "olga) came to meet us. Dietrich Peters and Peter Quiring, who had traveled via Petersburg, who arrived at the Volga before us also came along.

December 2 we arrived in Tashkent. Housing for our company was ready. We moved in on December 3. Thus the long trek was behind us. Really, I had no worried but still I was glad that the journey of four months, and 3 days was finally finished. I was 17 years, 3 months and 2 days old when my parents and family arrived in Tashkent (*Aug. 31, 1863). As mentioned above we arrived in Tashkent, in the city of Tashkent December 2, 1880. There everyone found some kind of work to earn a living. One hauled rock, the other clay, the other sand etc. One did one thing, others something else for about a year and four months. Many succumbed to climatical diseases, others prevailed all sickness and some were not affected at all. I remained on the job continually. I must also mention that Elder Abraham Peters took ill and died in Tashkent. About 32-36 persons died here and entered their eternal home. Many others were converted there in Tashkent. I also had the joy to find the Lord Jesus Christ as my personal Saviour in 1882.

All during this time we were in search of land for homesteads and found it about 325 miles south east of Tashkent. May 2, 1882 we broke camp and moved to the acquired land complex. Traveling was slow because the stock had to accompany the caravan. We arrived on the land May 24. In a brief time the land was allotted and assigned and we began to plow, plant and sow. Since it was getting late in the season everyone hurried also with moulding brick and building houses.

Winter came upon us early while the crop was still in the field and the houses were far from ready to move in. Everything was slow because it was difficult to bring in the required lumber. October 3, we had a heavy snow and considerable frost. Oats froze hard while still on the stalk, because it had been sown late and was not matured. The weather however, warmed up again and all the people were safely sheltered in their homes before the severe winter set in. We also were able to complete our dwelling house and barn.

In 1883 I took up work in a blacksmith shop with brother "edel, earnign 50 rubles (about 50 cents in US currency?) a year. I remained with this work a year and two months. Because of insufficient work he could not employ me any longer. I then bought an anvil and bellows from him and went to work on my own with a road construction group toward the city. My father blasted rocks and I was the blacksmith sharpening the pickaxes and bars for the rest of the workers, from 4 -100 men were employed daily.

(Thus far Jacob Reimer wrote the account of the trek. I, Minnie Reimer, his second helpmate copied it after his death to the best of my ability).
